THE STEBBING FAMILY OF CO. ESSEX, ENGLAND,
AND ROWLAND, MARTIN, EDWARD AND EDITHA
STEBBING OR STEBBINS OF NEW ENGLAND

By John Insley Coddington, F.A.S.G., of Washington, D.C.

Reference is made to five accounts of the four above-named members of the Stebbing family of Essex, England, who settled in New England in the 1630's. These accounts are, first, the large and excellent work by Ralph Stebbins Greenlee and Robert Lemuel Greenlee, The Stebbins Genealogy, 2 vols., Chicago, 1904; secondly, the account of Rowland Stebbing [or Stebbins] in Frank Farnsworth Starr, Various Ancestral Lines of James Goodwin and Lucy (Morgan) Goodwin of Hartford, Connecticut, 2 vols, Hartford, 1915, vol. 2, pp. 21-28; thirdly, the [very brief] account of Editha (Stebbing) (Day) (Maynard) Holyoke in Charles Edwin Booth, One Branch of the Booth Family, New York, 1910, p. 181; fourthly, the much better and more complete biography of the said Editha and of her husbands, Robert¹ Day, John¹ Maynard and Elizur² Holyoke in Donald Lines Jacobus and Edgar Francis Waterman, Hale, House and Related Families, Hartford, 1952, pp. 509-11 and 644-5; fifthly, my article, "The Family of Frances (Tough) (Chester) (Smith) Stebbing, Wife of Edward Stebbing, of Hartford, Connecticut," in The American Genealogist, ante, vol. 30, pp. 193-204.

Most of The Stebbins Genealogy is concerned with the descendants of Rowland¹ Stebbing or Stebbins, who came to America with his wife Sarah on the ship Francis of Ipswich, co. Suffolk, which sailed from Ipswich "the last of April" 1634. Rowland Stebbing settled briefly at Roxbury, Mass., then at Springfield, Mass., and later removed to Northampton, Mass., where he died 14 Dec. 1671, leaving four children, from whom the majority of those who bear the name of Stebbins in America are descended. But The Stebbins Genealogy also contains (vol. 2, pp. 1117-9) a section on Martin Stebbing, who settled at Roxbury, Mass., by 1639, later moved to Boston, and died there about Oct. 1659; and a section (vol. 2, pp. 1005-14) on Edward Stebbing, who came to New England before 29 March 1632, settled at "New Town" (later Cambridge), moved in 1636 to Hartford, served as deacon of the church there, and died there in 1668. The Stebbins Genealogy also includes (vol. 1, pp. 13-50) a section entitled "Stebbins in England," in which there are many interesting and valuable items, such as an outline of the history of the parish of Stebbing in Hinkford Hundred, co. Essex, from which the family undoubtedly derived its surname; pedigrees of the gentry families that successively held the manor of Stebbing; Stebbing, Stubbing and Stybbing extracts from the Parish Registers of several parishes in Essex, Suffolk and London; full copies of the wills of four Stebbing residents of Essex and abstracts of the wills of thirteen Stebbing residents of Suffolk, and the like. But the compilers of this fine genealogy were not so fortunate as to discover the parishes in which Rowland, Martin, Edward and Editha Stebbing were baptized.

The renowned American genealogist, Frank Farnsworth Starr, while working for the late James J. Goodwin of Hartford, found the records of the baptisms of Rowland and Martin Stebbing in the fragmentary Parish Registers of St. Mary's Church, Bocking, co. Essex. The Bocking Registers also contained references to the Fitch and Goodwin families who settled in Connecticut, showing that a number of residents of Bocking joined the Puritan emigration to New England in the 1630's. Mr. Starr subsequently edited the Parish Registers of Bocking and they were printed in a very small edition at Mr. Goodwin's expense. After pointing out that the existing Registers are sadly lacking in continuity (the Baptisms begin in July 1561, with gaps from March 1571 to May 1583, from April 1588 to October 1592, from October 1599 to October 1602, and from 1605 to 1655; the Marriages begin in 1593, with gaps from May 1613 to September 1618 and from 1639 to 1655; the Burials begin in November 1558, with gaps from August 1580 to September 1583 and from 1627 to 1655), he lists the following seven Stebbing records:

1561	Gulielmus Stebinge sepultus est	28 May.
1592	Rowlandus Stebing filius Thomae baptizatus	5 November.
1594	Martinus Stebing filius Thomae baptizatus	28 April.
1603	Johannes Leavens et Elizabetha Stebbin nupti	16 June.
1618	Rowlandus Stebbing & Sara Whiting nupti	30 November.
1624	Gulielmus Stebbing filius Martini Stebbing sepultus est	3 September.
1625	Elizabetha Stebbing filia Rowlandi Stebbing sepulta est	15 June.

The parish of Bocking is bounded on the south by that of Braintree. In this parish, Mr. Thomas Hooker, the future founder of Hartford, Conn., often preached during his ministry in Essex, and among the inhabitants of Braintree were Mr. William Wadsworth, Mr. John Talcott, and their families, who came to New England on the Lion in the summer of 1632, and accompanied Mr. Thomas Hooker to Hartford in 1636. The Parish Registers of St. Michael's Church at Braintree prior to 1660 have unfortunately been lost, but, as will be seen below, there were also members of the Stebbing family in Braintree in the 1620's.

Mr. Frank Farnsworth Starr also compiled for Mr. James J. Goodwin the English Goodwin Family Papers, 3 vols., Hartford, 1921, which consist of a mass of English records collected by Mr. Starr in the course of his search for the ancestry of William and Ozias Goodwin, of Bocking, who also came to New England in 1632, and settled at Hartford in 1636. Here we find the following references:

Vol. 2, p. 1148: Braintree Vestry Book Abstracts, 6 Sept. 1619: Notice given by William Stebbing of a wench intertained at John Beckwiths dwelling on Cursing greene that is supposed to have a greate belly which the Constables have warning to look after.

Vol. 2, p. 1166: Braintree Vestry Book, 18 Apr. 1625: The sidesmen of the parish include Edward Stebbing and William Wadsworth.

Vol. 2, p. 1169: Braintree Manor Rolls, Easter Monday 1628: The Homage includes Ed[wa]r[d]us Stebbing.

Immediately to the south of Braintree is the parish of Black Notley, and adjoining the latter to the south-east is the parish of White Notley. The late C. A. Hoppin once confided to Dr. Arthur Adams that he was sure that Edward Stebbing, the Hartford settler, was born in one of the two Notleys. Accordingly, I commissioned Miss Helen Thacker of London to examine the parish Registers of both Notleys and abstract all Stebbing records. Miss Thacker found that the Registers of White Notley, which begin in 1541, contain no Stebbing entries whatever. But those of SS. Peter and Paul's Church, Black Notley, which commence in 1570 and were examined through 1640, contain the following records:

Baptisms

- 1593 Ellin Stebbing the Daughter of Willm Stebbing was baptized the xi Day of November 1593.
- 1594 Edward Stebbing the sonne of Willm Stebbing was baptized the xxiiii day of February 1594 (1594/5).
- 1596 Amy Stebbing the daughter of Willm Stebbing was baptized the 11 Day of December 1596.
- 1598 Elizabeth Stebbing the daughter of Thomas Stebbing was baptized the vii day of May 1598.
- 1599 Thomas Stebbing the sonne of Willm Stebbing was baptized the vii day of Marche 1599 (1599/1600).
- 1603 Margret Stebinge the daughter of Willm Stebinge was baptized the xviii day of March 1603 (1603/4).

Marriages

- 1583 John Lawson and Elizabeth Stebbing were married the x day of September 1583.
1584 Henry Stebbing and Susan Bacon were married the xix day of October 1584.
1587 Penrie Stebbing and Margett Coppin were married the xxiii day of March 1587 (1587/8).

Burials

- 1585 Susan the wife of Henrie Stebbing was buried the xv day of September 1585.
1590 Dennis the daughter of Thomas Stebbing was buried the xix day of November 1590.
1600 Thomas Stebbing was buried the first of September 1600.
1603 Thomas Stebbing was buried y^e xxi of January 1603 (1603/4).
1606 Ellen Stebbings widdow of Thomas Stebbing was buried the 26th day of January 1606 (1606/7).

Miss Thacker reported the following lacunae in the Black Notley Registers: in the Marriages, the bottom portion of a page cut out after August 1606; marriages begin again in November 1606 at top of next page. Owing to this cut there is also a gap (on the other side of the page) between August 1608 and March 1608/9. Another cut occurs at top of page after September 1632, and entries begin again in May 1633. This cut causes a gap on the other side of the page from February 1635/6 to April 1636. In the Burials, a page covering parts of 1602-3 was defaced and unreadable; there was a part of 1604 that was unreadable and also a part of 1625.

Miss Thacker was further commissioned to search the Feet of Fines in the Public Record Office in London, to try to find a record of disposal of property in Essex by Rowland, Martin or Edward Stebbing at the time of their emigration to New England. Nothing was found. Moreover, no will was found belonging to Thomas Stebbing of Bocking (the father of Rowland and Martin) or to William Stebbing of Black Notley and Braintree (the presumed father of Edward), and there was no record of the Stebbing family in the Lay Subsidies of Hinkford Hundred, Essex, in the reigns of Elizabeth I, James I or Charles I.

Bearing in mind the limitations of our genealogical data, we may venture to set forth these brief summaries concerning Rowland, Martin, Edward and Editha Stebbing:

1. Rowland¹ Stebbing, baptized at Bocking, co. Essex, 5 Nov. 1592, son of Thomas Stebbing of Bocking and older brother of Martin Stebbing. He married at Bocking, 30 Nov. 1618, Sarah Whiting, whose baptism does not appear in the existing Registers of Bocking. Their five known children were presumably born and baptized at Bocking, but none of the baptisms and only one burial of a child of Rowland Stebbing appear in the fragmentary Registers of that parish.

Rowland Stebbing and his family sailed from Ipswich, co. Suffolk, on the Francis, "last of April" 1634. The shipping list gives Rowland's age as 40, wife Sarah, 43, and children Thomas, 14, Sarah, 11, John, 8, and Elizabeth, 6. On arrival in New England, they settled first at Roxbury. Rowland Stebbing was one of the early settlers of Springfield, Mass., moved there about 1639, and received land in the second division of that town, 24 Dec. 1640. Sarah (Whiting) Stebbing was buried at Springfield 4 Oct. 1649. Rowland had a seat in the meeting-house at Springfield in 1663, and some time after Feb. 1664/5 he moved again, to live with his son John at Northampton, Mass., where he died 14 Dec. 1671, leaving a will dated 1 March 1669/70. The inventory of his goods and chattels, taken 2 Jan. 1671/2, amounted to £9-5-2; the inventory of his lands, taken 11 Jan., amounted to £75-3-2; and debts amounting to £46-2-0 were owing to him [Stebbins Genealogy, vol. 1, pp. 51-9].

Children, born presumably at Bocking:

- i. Thomas², b. ca. 1619-20; Lieutenant, Springfield Train Band; d. at Springfield 15 Sept. 1683; m. (1) there, in Nov. 1645, Hannah Wright, who d. there 16 Oct. 1660, dau. of Deacon Samuel and Margaret (—) Wright of Springfield; m. (2) there, 14 Dec. 1676, Abigail (Burt)(Ball) Munn, b. at Harborton, co. Devon, ca. 1623, d. at Springfield 2 June 1707, dau. of Henry and Ulalia (March) Burt and widow of Francis Ball and of Benjamin Munn. Thomas Stebbins had nine children by his first marriage, none by the second. His second son, Thomas³ Stebbins, b. at Springfield 31 July 1648, d. there 7 Dec. 1695, m. (1) there, 21 Dec. 1672, Abigail Munn, b. there 28 June 1650, d. there 6 Feb. 1692/3; he m. (2) there, 12 Apr. 1694, as second of her three husbands, his presumed cousin, Mary² (Day) Ely, b. at Hartford ca. 1641, d. at Hatfield, Mass., 17 Oct. 1725, ae. 84, dau. of Robert¹ and Editha (Stebbing) Day and widow of Samuel² Ely (Stebbins Genealogy, vol. 1, pp. 60-74, 88; Jacobus and Waterman, Hale, House and Related Families, pp. 489, 510-1, 538).
- ii. Sarah, b. ca. 1622, d. at Springfield after 10 Feb. 1649/50; m. there 14 July 1639 (Stebbins Genealogy, which is prob. correct; Burt, Hist. of Springfield, 2:603, says 14 Sept.; Pope, Pioneers of Mass., 311, says 14 Apr., both prob. wrong) to Thomas¹ Merrick, b. ca. 1620, taxed at Springfield 13 Jan. 1638/9, deposed there 9 Feb. 1690/1 "aged about 70 years," d. there 7 Sept. 1704. He and Sarah had five children, then he m. (2) at Springfield, 21 Oct. 1653, Elizabeth Tilley, who d. there 21 Aug. 1684, by whom he had eight more (Stebbins Genealogy, vol. 1, p. 74).

- iii. Elizabeth, b. ca. 1624; bur. at Bocking 15 June 1625.
- iv. John, b. ca. 1626, d. at Northampton 7 Mar. 1678/9; m. (1) at Springfield, 14 Mar. 1645/6, Ann (Munson) Munden, widow of Abraham Munden (whom she m. at Springfield 16 May 1644 and who was drowned 29 Oct. 1645, leaving a daughter, Mary Munden, b. at Springfield 8 Aug. 1645). Ann may have been a member of the Munson family of Rattlesden, co. Suffolk, to which it is believed that Thomas¹ Munson of Hartford and New Haven belonged, but there is no record of Ann's baptism in the Rattlesden Parish Registers (Milton Rubincam, "The Munson Family of County Suffolk, England, and New Haven, Conn.," The American Genealogist, ante, vol. 17, pp. 129-34). Ann (Munson)(Munden) Stebbins d., prob. at Springfield, after 23 June 1655, having had five children by John. He m. (2) at Northampton, 17 Dec. 1657, Abigail² Bartlett, dau. of Robert¹ and Anne (——) Bartlett, successively of Cambridge, Hartford and Northampton, by whom he had ten more children. Abigail m. (2) at Northampton, 28 Dec. 1681, Jedediah² Strong, son of Elder John¹ Strong. She d. as a result of a fall from her horse, at South Hadley Falls, Mass., soon after 10 Oct. 1710. The inventory of John² Stebbins's estate, taken 20 Mar. 1678/9, came to 4617-3-11 (Stebbins Genealogy, vol. 1, pp. 74-83).
- v. Elizabeth, b. ca. 1628, d. at Springfield 28 Oct. 1700; m. there, 2 Jan. 1646/7, John¹ Clark of Springfield, who d. there in Sept. 1684, leaving a will dated 15, proved 30 Sept. 1684, and four children (Stebbins Genealogy, vol. 1, p. 83; New Eng. Hist. & Gen. Register, vol. 18, pp. 84-5, 142-3).

2. Martin¹ Stebbing, baptized at Bocking, co. Essex, 28 Apr. 1594, son of Thomas Stebbing of Bocking and younger brother of Rowland Stebbing, came to New England by 1639 and perhaps several years before that, settling at Roxbury, Mass., where his brother Rowland was also settled. His first definite appearance in New England records, however, is dated 17 Oct. 1639, when he signed an obligation at Roxbury to pay money in semi-annual instalments. He was a gardener at Roxbury, but moved to Boston about 1647 and became a brewer and victualler. He showed inexactitude about his age by deposing, "aged about 68," 14 Jan. 1657/8 [New Eng. Hist. & Gen. Register, vol. 20, p. 143]. He died at Boston between 25 July 1659 (when he had a license to draw beer) and 23 Nov. 1659, when administration of his estate was granted to his son John.

He married first, in Essex, ———, by whom he had at least two sons, and who may have died in England, as there is no record of her in Roxbury. He married secondly, at Roxbury, 25 Dec. 1639, Jane (——) Green, widow of John Green, who died there before 14

Feb. 1638/9. She, who is described as "so vyolent in her passion that she offered vyolence to her husband, which being divulged was of such infamy y^t she was cast out of church, but soone after she humbled herself & was received in again," died at Boston 24 July 1659 [Stebbins Genealogy, vol. 2, pp. 1117-9, in which Martin is not identified as Rowland's brother; Roxbury Church Records, 6th Report of the Record Commissioners of Boston, p. 85].

Children by first marriage, probably born at Bocking:

- i. John², prob. b. ca. 1616-20, d. at Roxbury 4 Dec. 1681, bur. there 7 Dec. 1681. His gravestone in the Roxbury Burial Ground said: "John Stebbins, aged seventy years, died the 4th. of December 1681." The age is probably an exaggeration, for presumably he would not have been born when his father, Martin Stebbin, was only 17. He was administrator of his father's estate 23 Nov. 1659, in spite of which the Stebbins Genealogy does not identify him as son of Martin. He m. (1) at Roxbury, 17 Apr. 1644, Anne Munke, whose age is also a matter of dispute, and both of them became members of the Roxbury church about 1644. Anna d. 3 Apr. 1680, "aged fifty years" according to her tombstone at Roxbury, but this is probably a diminution of her real age. John Stebbins m. (2) at Roxbury, 4 June 1680, the Widow Rebecca (—) Hawkins. No children by either marriage mentioned in the records and certainly none survived (Stebbins Genealogy, vol. 2, p. 1030; 6th. Report of the Record Commissioners of Boston, p. 86; New Eng. Hist. & Gen. Register, vol. 14, p. 54).

- ii. William, bur. at Bocking 3 Sept. 1624.

Children by second marriage, born at Roxbury:

- iii. Hannah, b. 23 Oct. 1640.
- iv. Mary, b. 1 Feb. 1642/3, bapt. at Roxbury 5 Feb. 1642/3.
- v. Nathaniel, bapt. at Roxbury 23 Mar. 1644/5.

3. William Stebbing of Black Notley, co. Essex, had five children baptized in that parish between 11 Nov. 1593 and 18 Mar. 1603/4. There is no burial recorded of him, his wife, or any of his children in the quite complete Registers of Black Notley, so we may safely assume that he left the parish and moved elsewhere after March 1603/4. The rest, however, is conjecture. We think he is the William Stebbing mentioned in the Braintree Vestry Book under date of 6 Sept. 1619, and, if the identification is correct, it is likely that William Stebbing had more children born after his removal to Braintree. It is also probable that William Stebbing was related, more or less closely, to his contemporary Thomas Stebbing of Bocking, father of Rowland and Martin. But it must be remembered that though Braintree adjoined Bocking on the north and Black Notley on the south, we have no proof of the identity of William Stebbing of Black Notley with William of Braintree, and because of the absence of Braintree Parish Registers before 1660, we have no record of the burial of William or his wife, and none of the baptisms of younger children he may have had at Braintree. The name of William's wife has not been learned.

Children, baptized at Black Notley:

- i. Ellen, bapt. 11 Nov. 1593.
- ii. Edward, bapt. 24 Feb. 1594/5.
- iii. Amy, bapt. 2 Dec. 1596.
- iv. Thomas, bapt. 7 Mar. 1599/1600.
- v. Margaret, bapt. 18 Mar. 1603/4.

Possible child, born at Braintree:

- vi. Editha, b. ca. 1610-17.

4. Edward Stebbing, perhaps the child of that name baptized at Black Notley 24 Feb. 1594/5, son of William Stebbing. If (as we think) William Stebbing moved from Black Notley to Braintree after March 1603/4, then his son Edward may well have been the Edward Stebbing who was a sidesman of Braintree parish, 18 Apr. 1625 (together with William Wadsworth), and one of the Homage of Braintree Manor, Easter Monday 1628. Not only William Wadsworth and John Talcott, but others, including perhaps Stephen Hart and Richard Butler, as has been asserted by some writers, were among the Puritan inhabitants of Braintree who sailed to New England, settled first at Cambridge, and were among the early followers of Mr. Thomas Hooker to Hartford. It is quite reasonable to suppose that Edward Stebbing was another of those who made the same journey.

Edward Stebbing, who served for many years as Deacon of the church at Hartford and for 21 sessions as Deputy from Hartford to the Connecticut General Assembly, died at Hartford shortly before 19 Aug. 1668. He married, probably in 1629, as her third husband, Frances (Tough)(Chester) Smith, born at Burrough-on-the-Hill, co. Leicester, about 1595-7, died at Hartford between 12 Nov. and 23 Dec. 1673, daughter of Ralph Tough and widow of Sampson Chester and Thomas Smith. They had two daughters, Mary and Elizabeth Stebbing. For further details about all these persons, see The American Genealogist, ante, vol. 30, pp. 193-204.

5. Editha Stebbing, born about 1610-17, known to have been the sister of Edward Stebbing of Hartford and named as such in his will, was (we think) born at Braintree, daughter of William Stebbing of Black Notley who moved to Braintree, but again we must warn readers that this theory is not proved. Editha either accompanied or followed her older brother to New England, and was married there three times; first, about 1637 to Robert¹ Day, born about 1604, died at Hartford between 20 May and 14 Oct. 1648, by whom she had four children (one of whom, Mary² Day, married as her second husband Thomas³ Stebbins, grandson of Rowland Stebbing, see above). Editha married, secondly, John¹ Maynard, who died at Hartford between 23 Jan. and 24 Feb. 1657/8, leaving no issue by her. Editha married, thirdly, soon after Maynard's death, Elizur² Holyoke of Springfield, born about 1616, who died there 6 Feb. 1675/6. Editha died at Springfield 24 Oct. 1688. For full details, see Jacobus and Waterman, Hale, House and Related Families, pp. 509-11, 644-5; and ante, vol. 30, pp. 197-9, 203.

GENEALOGICAL BY-WAYS

By Walter Goodwin Davis, F.A.S.G., of Portland, Maine

Every genealogist knows that research often leads him into strange and entertaining by-ways. In the will of Lady (Joan) Frowick, the widow of a great London merchant and mayor of the city, made in 1500, she left to her daughter Isabel Haute "a sperver of Lord Alisander of blue and tawny." What was it? The Oxford Dictionary produced the information that "sperver" was an early term for a sparrow-hawk, which would have been a possible legacy, but who was "Lord Alisander," and could a sparrow-hawk be blue and orange? Quite obviously not, nor did the Complete Peerage list such a lord. Another look at the dictionary for possible variants of "sperver" disclosed the fact that a sparver was a bed-canopy with hangings, whereupon the sparrow-hawk flew out of the window, for, as is often the case in women's wills, Lady Frowick disposed of many bed furnishings in hers. "Lord Alisander" still defied identification, however. Some time later the much earlier will of Lady Frowick's great-uncle, Thomas Cotton, a priest, came to hand and solved the second part of the problem, for the good parson left to his nephew his "bed of Bordalisandre." On a third trip to the dictionary, bordalisaunder turned out to be a medieval term for an embroidered silk material manufactured in Alexandria, Egypt. One hopes that Isabel Haute slept well under her gay Egyptian canopy of "blue and tawny."

ON THE MARRING OF RESEARCH SOURCES

By George McK. Roberts, of Lebanon, N.H.

There exists in this country a group, small, to be sure, of self-appointed "experts," whose extrovertial activities have made its members almost public nuisances. This group, especially in the fields of genealogy, family history, biography, local history, and the sources of such subjects, has taken upon itself the task of editing, amending, emending, correcting, and maltreating books, periodicals, journals, manuscripts, collections of old newspapers, even original public records. It is not at all unusual to find in such sources of research not only marginal lines of notation, underlineations of the subject matter, but even comments, so-called corrections, eliminations of and additions to the text, and in some deplorable instances, complete obscurance of the original text.

This group is wholly anonymous. It may be that the defacings represent real corrections and additions, but the researcher, while knowing the identity, and possibly, the capacity, of the author, compiler or source of the original or printed material, never knows those of the defacer. None of this group can be considered a researcher in the true sense of the word, nor a genealogist, a historian, or a representative of any legitimate field, but only as a pernicious meddler and an unmitigated evil. The researcher has no difficulty in judging the character and authenticity of the original record or text, and can make such allowances as are necessary for his own sphere of research, but he cannot determine, by any test, the identity, reliability, integrity or other capacity or attribute of the defacer.

It is, therefore, timely that genealogical, historical and similar groups, whether societies, associations, authors, compilers, publishers, librarians, and the like, use their undoubted influence to abate, or at least discourage and mitigate, this deplorable practice. It is suggested that those having corrections or additions of importance to make to printed sources, type or write these out plainly, signing their names and stating their addresses, on paper of a size to fit into the book to be amended, and then present the paper to the librarian or custodian with the request that it be tipped into the volume at the proper page.

THE PARENTAGE AND WIFE OF JOSEPH WOODWORTH, SR.
OF LITTLE COMPTON, R.I., AND LEBANON, CONN.

By Miss Helen L. Stark, of Penn Yan, N.Y.

Over fifty years ago a genealogy of the Woodworth family stated that the wife of Joseph Woodworth of Little Compton, R.I., was unknown, but that his father was Walter², son of Walter¹ Woodworth, a founder of Scituate, Mass., who like other Scituate men had land grants at what later became Little Compton, R.I. Apparently no one ever found the wife of Joseph, but Arnold's Vital Record of Rhode Island ostensibly verified his parentage, for under Little Compton records the Woodworth marriages begin:

Walter m. 1669.

Joseph m. 1694.

And under births:

Walter 1645.

Joseph of Walter 1670.

Hezekiah 1672.

[Five more children ascribed to Walter.]

Joseph 1670.

Joseph of Joseph Mar. 17, 1696.

Jedediah Dec. 1, 1699.

Then follows Hezekiah, born 1672, died Nov. 25, 1716, and children of Hezekiah and Hannah.

The line seemed clear enough until, about the time the genealogy was published, the will of Walter¹ was discovered, and no son Walter was mentioned in it. To whom then did these first Little Compton children belong? Joseph, born 1670, could easily be the Joseph recorded at Scituate, born Mar. 10, 1670/1, son of Joseph². But the other children of Joseph² are also recorded at Scituate and do not correspond at all with those of the alleged Little Compton family. Since the discovery of the will, the Little Compton Joseph has been called, even by genealogists, son of Walter² in spite of the will; son of Benjamin²; the son born to Joseph² in 1670/1; and it has even been suggested that the Joseph born 1695/6 was brother instead of son of the Joseph born 1670/1, if the earlier one died young.

In all this confusion, a thorough search of original records seemed desirable. Mrs. Winifred Lovering Holman of Lexington, Mass., directed this search, assisted by Mr. Francis Richmond Sears of Swansea for early Scituate records at Plymouth and early Little Compton records at Taunton, and by Mrs. Charles Townsend of West Hartford for Lebanon records.

First, a certified copy of the original vital records of Little Compton was obtained from the Town Clerk and this eliminated Walter and his whole family. In Book 1, p. 16, the Woodworth record begins,—"Joseph Woodworth, the son of Joseph Woodworth was born the seventeenth day of March in the year of our Lord 1695/6." Next comes the birth of Jedediah, son of Joseph, then Elisha, son of Hezekiah, etc. It seems that a former Clerk copied the original records and added whatever he thought he knew about the families, without indicating that these were his additions, and not part of the original records. And Arnold took his records from the copy, not from the original.

So with Walter² completely eliminated, the search centered on Joseph³, son of Joseph², born 1670/1 at Scituate, as the one most likely to be the Joseph of Little Compton. At Plymouth only two deeds were found in which any Joseph Woodworth was a party, and neither was of any help in this search.

The Probate Files, #23481, contain the will and inventory of Joseph² Woodworth. The copy book gives letters of administration, will and inventory, Vol. 4, pp. 110-112. After providing for wife Sarah, he bequeaths to his two sons, Joseph and Benjamin, in that order, then to his daughters in order of their births. To Benjamin he leaves his Scituate property; to Joseph—"Item, I give and Bequeath to my son Joseph all that my Estate both Housing and Lands and Meadows Lying and being in Little Compton, which He the said Joseph is now in the Possession and Improvement of which said Lands & meadows are particularly Bounded as by Record may appear Reference Thereunto being had To Have and to Hold to him, his heirs and assigns Forever." The will is dated Dec. 3, 1712; witnesses, Samuel Clap, Nicholas Wade, and Nathaniel Pitcher. The last-named swore to it before the Judge of Probate Apr. 26, 1718, Clap and Wade on June 13, 1718.

This record proves that in 1712 Joseph² of Scituate had a son Joseph, presumably his older son since he was named first in the will, who was settled on and managing his father's lands at Little Compton. The Joseph born 1696 was at that time only sixteen, and it is highly improbable that at that age so much responsibility would have been given him. Therefore the Joseph born 1670/1 did not die young, but lived on his father's Little Compton land and inherited that land at his father's death.

Turning now to Little Compton deeds at Taunton, the first index covers the years 1686-1795. There are fourteen deeds to which a Joseph Woodworth was a party, grantee in three and grantor in eleven. Two of these are for Joseph Woodworth "Junr." An examination of these fourteen deeds shows that in all Bristol County there were only two Joseph Woodworths who were parties to deeds, that both lived at Little Compton, and that all the land involved was at Little Compton. Aside from proving this, none seems especially important to our search until 1733/4. The first one is dated Mar. 28, 1715. In most of them he is called "Joseph Woodworth, weaver," and in one he sells land "which originally did belong to Walter Woodworth." Joseph Woodworth Junr was a grantee July 9, 1728, his first deed.

On Feb. 23, 1733/4, Joseph and Joseph Jr. both sell their homes to Nathaniel Searles, Jr. Joseph Jr.'s wife Ann [Ann Manchester, married 1723] releases her right of dower, and so does the wife of Joseph Sr. The deed goes thus: "Joseph Woodworth of Little Compton in the County of Bristol in his Majesties province of the Massachusetts Bay in New England Weaver....for and in consideration of....Seven Hundred and Sixty pounds....paid by Nathaniel Searle, Jun^r of the Town and County aforesaid yeoman....grant....unto him the said Nathaniel Searle Jun^r....a certain peice or parcel of Land....in Little Compton....containing forty Eight acres....and is Two Twenty four acre Lotts the Twenty Second and Twenty Third Lotts in Number among the Twenty four acre Lotts in Said Little Compton and is bounded as followeth West upon a highway East upon Cole Brook Line North on the Land of Israel Shaw South on the Land of Mr. Richard Billings and partly on the Land of Joseph Woodworth Jun^r Together with all housing, buildings....And Rebecca Woodworth the wife of me the said Joseph Woodworth....doth....Surrender all her Right of Dowry....this Twenty third Day of February....one thousand Seven hundred thirty three four 1733-4

[Witnesses]

Joseph Woodworth"

Thomas Dring, Junr.

Thomas Crandall

"The above named Joseph Woodworth personally appearing did acknowledge this above written Instrument to be his act & Deed also his wife Rebecca Woodworth being present did surrender up all her Right of Dower & power of thirds in the premises. In Little Compton the first Day of Aprill 1734 before me Thomas Church J.P." Book 23, pp. 97-98. The acknowledgment by Joseph Junr and his wife, not named, is recorded on the same Apr. 1, 1734, of the sale of their homestead, in Book 23, p.95.

Only once more is the name Joseph Woodworth found in these Taunton deeds. On Aug. 31, 1742, Joseph Woodworth of Lebanon, Conn., Weaver, sold half of a fifteen acre lot, #21, at Little Compton.

Although Lebanon records had already been searched, in order to make the search exhaustive and also to look for the newly found wife of Joseph Sr., Rebecca, they were searched again under the direction of Mrs. Holman. But nothing new was found.

Sept. 16, 1734, Nathaniel Man of Hebron sold land in Lebanon Village to Joseph Woodworth, Jr., of Little Compton. On Apr. 30, 1736, Joseph Jr. sold this to his "father Joseph Woodworth of Lebanon." Both Josephs buy and sell land quite often from then on. Apr. 14, 1742, Joseph deeds land to son Jedediah, the last sure record we have of him. "Joseph Jr." no longer appears in the records except once, Feb. 22, 1746/7, when Joseph Jr. sells to Silas Swift. But six days later, Swift conveys to Joseph Woodworth without the "Junior." Possibly Joseph was called "Jr." in the first deed from habit. So much for "Sr."; how long did "Jr." survive? Jan. 20, 1764, Joseph Woodworth deeded to son Lemuel, the last proof we have that he was living. Probably he is the grantee of a deed June 26, 1773. This is the last time "Joseph Woodworth" appears in deeds until his grandson Joseph appears much later.

Neither Joseph left any probate record. A "Joseph Woodworth" joined the Columbia Church in 1742, and a "Joseph Woodworth" in 1745, with nothing to distinguish one from the other. Did Joseph Sr. die in 1742? Neither Rebecca nor Anne joined the church at all. Grave-stones have not been found for any of the four. The Columbia Church records contain the death of a Widow Anne Woodworth, July 12, 1789, aged 88. Anne (Manchester) Woodworth, wife of Joseph Jr., is the only one found who could be this one. Miss Jennie M. Patton of Yuma, Colorado, wrote many years ago she was sure this was our Anne, and she thought the "Aged Mr. Woodworth" of those same church records was Anne's husband, Joseph Woodworth, Jr. He died in 1784. Miss Patton had made quite a study of the Lebanon Woodworths.

To summarize: Joseph Woodworth, Sr., of Little Compton, R.I., and Lebanon, Conn., was certainly the son of Joseph² and Sarah (Stockbridge) Woodworth of Scituate, Mass., born there Mar. 10, 1670/1. He had in 1733/4 a wife Rebecca, and about that time he and his sons moved to Lebanon. He was living Apr. 14, 1742, but died probably not much later. Joseph, Jr., was living in 1764, and quite likely until 1784; his widow Anne probably died in 1789. Nothing more is known of Rebecca.

JOHN⁴ REYNOLDS OF GREENWICH, CONNECTICUT

By G. E. McCracken, Ph.D., F.A.S.G.
Drake University, Des Moines, Iowa

Under the auspices of the Reynolds Family Association the late Marion H. Reynolds and Mrs. Anna C. Ripper, who was still secretary of the Association in 1953, published The History and Descendants of John and Sarah Reynolds, etc. (Brooklyn, 1924), copies of which were still available from Mrs. Ripper in 1953 for the small sum of one dollar plus postage (address: 44 Bringhurst Street, Philadelphia 44, Pa.). Neither Mr. Reynolds nor Mrs. Ripper were descendants of this pair, but based their work on the printed and manuscript sources made available to them by others. The book is a good one but there is a very serious error contained in the sketch numbered 42, that of John⁴ Reynolds (Jonathan³, Jonathan², John¹).

This John Reynolds was son of Jonathan³ Reynolds by a wife whose name has been printed in the genealogy in two forms: as Nevill Ridware on page 21 and as Nevill Ridwere on page 41. Nothing more is said of the lady who had this unusual name except that the marriage was performed on 7 Dec. 1682 before "Mr. Richer, Laws Commissioner." The present writer has searched in vain for any reference to the name Ridware or reasonable variant thereof in colonial New England. The name Ridware, however, is not fictitious; there are in Staffordshire four hamlets, Hamstall Ridware, Pipe Ridware, Hill Ridware, and Mavesyn Ridware, parishes doubtless connected with the surname of the Staffordshire family of Ridware which is listed in Marshall's Genealogist's Guide. Marshall's references, so far as they could be checked, lead only to a family which seems to have died out long before the period of our lady.

In two secondary sources, however [W. M. Clemens' American Marriages before 1700; and D.A.R. Magazine, 44:322], this marriage is listed and in each case the surname of the bride appears as Ride, not Ridware or Ridwere. The marriage is also recorded in the card file of Connecticut Vital Records at the Connecticut State Library, and on one card the surname appears as Ride and on another as Rice. It seemed from these variations that there was something difficult to read in the original record, and consequently a photostat of the original, which is in the Greenwich "Early Records" volume, page 40, was obtained from the Town Clerk of Greenwich, after considerable delay. The record is now transcribed herein at the top of the next page exactly as it appears in the original, with due regard for spacing:

The 7 of December : 1682 :
were	Jonathan Renolds and Nevell Ride Married by Mr Richer Laws Commissioner

The line at the left represents a marginal guide, not the left side of the page. The line at the right, which is that of the page, leaves room for only one letter to the right of "Ride" and that space is blank. The space left blank between "were" and "Married" is probably caused by a desire to avoid collision with the first letter of "Jonathan." Similarly, in the second line, "Jonathan" is indented to avoid long tails on the digit and the last letter of "of." There is no comma after "Richer" but the dot on the second 'i' of "Commissioner" is so high that a careless reader might take it for a comma. The facts that a "laws commissioner" is meaningless and that Richard Law was Commissioner for Stamford and Greenwich at that date make it certain that he was the officiating magistrate. The handwriting of the record is throughout perfectly clear. We feel certain that the word "were" is a verb and not a suffix to the bride's name. We therefore feel confident that Mr. Richard Law on 7 Dec. 1682 married Jonathan Reynolds to Nevell Ride. Efforts to find this woman's family at Greenwich have thus far failed. We have checked for this purpose the names Ride, Rice, Ryder, Wright, Reed, Neville and Newell, and have found exactly nothing to help.

The compilers found no will for this Jonathan Reynolds and they do not state clearly how they arrived at the list of five sons which they print: Jonathan (b. 1683), John (b. "about 1698-9"—quotations the compilers'), Nathan (b. about 1688), Peter (b. about 1691), and Josiah (b. Jan. 13, 1689/90). Note that two of the dates are out of sequence; the compilers state that they had found two dates since they had put the material into type. The reversal of the order of Peter and Josiah is easy, but there is period of five years between Jonathan and Nathan, which would be a natural place for John if he was not born, as the compilers thought, so late as 1698-9. We think that the compilers originally intended to date John's birth about 1684 or 1685, but changed the date when, as will be seen, they heard of a John born about 1698 or 1699. In this respect, their original intention would have been preferable, as we shall see.

In the third decade of the eighteenth century there were living in the Greenwich area, that is, along the north shore of Long Island Sound, several men named John Reynolds. In the following list we transcribe a summary of what the compilers say of each:

23. John³ Reynolds, Sr., the deacon of the West Society, son of Jonathan² Reynolds (John¹) by wife Rebecca Husted; born in 1662, died in March 1735/6. The compilers assign to him a will executed 22 Sept. 1732, probated 6 Apr. 1736. His wife was Ruth Knapp, daughter of Joshua and Hannah, and she survived her husband and is named in his will. The will also states that testator left no children.

31. John³ Reynolds, Jr., a cooper, born about 1670, died September 1732; son of John² Reynolds by wife Judith Palmer, and therefore first cousin of No. 23. The compilers assign to him a will dated 11 Nov. 1732, probated 26 March 1732/3. They did not know the name of his wife but wrongly state that she was not mentioned in his will. What they mean is that she is not named in the will, for they quote a bequest to her.

42. John⁴ Reynolds, son of Jonathan³ (Jonathan², John¹), will be discussed in greater detail below.

69. John⁴ Reynolds, son of Joseph³ (Jonathan², John¹), born 23 May 1708, died after 4 May 1733 and probably in 1734. He married his second cousin, Ruth Reynolds, daughter of No. 31 above, on 19 Nov. 1729. They had two children, Ruth, born 28 Sept. 1730, and John, born 7 Nov. 1732, of whom the compilers learned nothing more. The widow Ruth married, second, 10 July 1735, Ebenezer Mead, to whom she bore four more children. These Mead children are the reason for believing that the wife of Ebenezer Mead was widow to No. 69 and not to No. 23, who would have been entirely too old to bear the Mead children, as she was born in 1667.

118. John⁴ Reynolds, born in 1712, son of Joshua³ (John², John¹); married, 16 Feb. 1740 [1740/1?], Joanna Winans, who bore eight children between 1742 and 1760.

We thus have five men named John Reynolds who were living in or near Greenwich about the year 1730. What is more, two of them had wives named Ruth, and the husbands of the two Ruths both died not more than three years apart. As we shall see, the matter is complicated by the fact that No. 42 will appear to have had a wife named Hannah, and there was, in all probability, a sixth John Reynolds, contemporary to the others, whose wife was also named Hannah, so that if the compilers erred in attempting to straighten out this tangle, there is every excuse for them.

We are now ready to set down what they actually say of No. 42. They found bona fide evidence that a John Reynolds had married Hannah Jessup and that they were both living in 1734, and they also found bona fide evidence that a John Reynolds married Hannah Sutton and that they were living as husband and wife from 1725 to 1764. They then assumed that both of these men were the same and that the wife was either Hannah Jessup or Hannah Sutton, but they were unable to decide which.

While the marriage record of John Reynolds to Hannah Jessup has never been discovered, it is quite definitely proved to have taken place, as there was, on 5 Feb. 1733/4, a protest of the estate of Edward Jessup (i.e. Edward³ (Edward², John¹)), and on 20 Feb. 1733/4 John Reynolds and his wife Hannah assigned their right under the will of Hannah's father, Edward Jessup. The dates quoted for these two records are taken from the very careful work of the Rev. Henry Griswold Jesup, Edward Jessup of West Farms, Westchester County, New York, and his Descendants (Cambridge, 1887), pp. 74-81, and they are confirmed by the equally careful work of Donald Lines Jacobus, Families of Old Fairfield (Fairfield, 1930-4), 1:338. The compilers, however, set the date of the assignment a year too early, on 20 Feb. 1732/3. Sometime prior to the month of February 1733/4, a John Reynolds married Hannah Jessup, daughter of Edward and Elizabeth (Hide) Jessup, and they were both still living as a married couple in that month. The Rev. Mr. Jesup wrote long before the existence of any Reynolds genealogy and refused to hazard a guess as to who Hannah Jessup's husband was.

He cannot, however have been No. 23, as that man, though possibly still living at the time, had had a wife from 1694 to 1736 who was named Ruth. The name of the wife of No. 31 is unknown, but he cannot have been Hannah Jessup's husband, for he was certainly dead before 26 March 1732/3, if the compilers have assigned him the right will. No. 69 had married a wife named Ruth in 1729 and she was still his wife when he died sometime before 10 July 1735. No. 118 was not born until 1712, so he was with the greatest improbability the husband of Hannah Jessup whose birth, though unknown, was probably before the year 1694. We therefore think for this and other reasons that the husband of Hannah Jessup was really No. 42, since he cannot have been any of the four other John Reynoldses found by the compilers, and we shall show that he cannot have been the sixth John Reynolds whom they did not suspect.

The compilers also cite the New York Genealogical and Biographical Record, 11:133, for the marriage of a John Reynolds to Hannah Sutton at St. George's, Hempstead, Long Island, on 26 Sept. 1725. [This is confirmed by the splendid transcription of these church records by the Rev. Dr. John Sylvanus Haight in Adventures for God (New York, 1932), p. 151.] They were not able to reconcile this marriage record with the data proving the marriage to Hannah Jessup, so they printed both names of the supposed wife and left the matter sub judice. They had not the slightest doubt, however, that the husband of Hannah Sutton was the son of Jonathan and Nevill (Ride) Reynolds.

They had discovered the will of Hannah Sutton's husband, that is, a will of a John Reynolds of North Castle, Westchester County, New York, dated 14 June 1764, probated on either the 2nd or 25th of October in the same year. They had also discovered the will of Jonathan Reynolds of North Castle, dated 15 Jan. 1748/9, probated 9 Oct. 1762. This Jonathan mentions neither wife nor child, but does mention his brother John with whom he had bought land in Matranous Meadows, formerly the property of their honored father John Reynolds, who may or may not be dead so far as the language of the will is concerned; mentions also brother Robert and sister Deborah; witnesses: Benoni Platt, John Ferris, and Wm. Sutherland. As this Jonathan had died before the execution of the will of John Reynolds of North Castle, and as Jonathan had a brother John and a brother Robert, whereas the testator of 1764 had sons named John and Robert, it was quite a natural step to assume that Jonathan was a son of John who died vitâ patris, especially since they both resided in North Castle. But Jonathan in 1749 had a sister Deborah, whereas John had no daughter Deborah in 1764. This was, of course, easy: she also had died vitâ patris. This, despite the fact that the compilers had found (see page 409) evidence that a Deborah Reynolds had died at Salem, Westchester County, on 21 Aug. 1774, and could have been Jonathan's sister.

From these two wills they compiled a list of the children of No. 42, but they subsequently withdrew it as they were about to go to press. Only by this supposition can we explain a very curious statement: the will of John Reynolds, cited above, "mentions wife Hannah and all children given below except Jonathan and Deborah, who were probably then dead, and James." If we look "below," however, we find no reference to Jonathan or Deborah, and when the compilers say the will does not name James, they are wrong, for the will actually names him. W. S. Pelletreau twice abstracted this will: once as that of John Runels in the Collections of the New-York Historical Society: Wills, 6:355, and again in his Early Wills of Westchester County, New York, 1664-1784 (pp. 208 f.). Persons named in this will are wife Hannah; daughter Margaret Purdy; sons Robert, John, Joseph, Richeson, James, and Sutton; grandson Richeson, son of son Richeson, the grandson then a minor; executors: son Robert and son-in-law Andrew Purdy; witnesses: Benjamin Smith, Isaac Cook, George Cooch.

From some source not disclosed they obtained a list of children of a John Reynolds by his wife Ann Finch, as follows: John, Ann, Sarah, Mary, Edward, Elizabeth, Jessop, Hannah, Jerusha, Jonah, and Deborah. Unmistakable affinity is shown between the list and the Jessup family, and the same relationship appears also with the will of Jonathan Reynolds, i.e., he had a sister Deborah and there is a Deborah here. We are convinced that the list is really made up of the children of John son of John and Hannah (Jessup) Reynolds, and we think that the compilers were also so convinced and intended to print it as such in their sketch No. 143.

After the text was in type and before printing, Mr. George F. Secor made available a copy of a remarkable document, that is, an unfinished genealogical statement written in the back of an account book by Sutton⁶ Reynolds (1794-1877), son of Sutton⁵ Reynolds (1744-1828), who in turn was son of the testator of 1764. In this statement the writer says that his grandfather was born "about the year 1698 or 9" and with his wife Hannah moved from "Longisleand about the year 1740" to Westchester County where they settled near Chappaqua. He lists the children of his grandparents and their birth dates as follows: (1) Margaret, b. 1725, wife of Andrew Purdy and Johnnathan Polden; (2) Robert, b. 1727; (3) Joseph, b. 1730; (4) John, b. 1734; (5) Richerson, b. 1735; (6) James, b. 1739; (7) Sutton, b. 18 Aug. 1744; and (8) Andrew, b. 1746.

The list is in complete harmony with the will of 1764 and knows nothing of any son Jonathan or any daughter Deborah. We may still suppose, with the compilers, that both Jonathan and Deborah were children of Hannah Sutton and that their early deaths were responsible for Sutton Reynolds' ignorance of them, but this will not do. Sutton Reynolds also goes on to tell something more about his uncle, the John Reynolds born in 1734, who married Zipporah Pierce and died in a British Army prison in New York City in 1778. This tale is in conflict with the data about the John Reynolds who married Ann Finch and gave Jessup names to his children. Moreover, if Sutton Reynolds was right in dating the birth of his uncle John in 1734, then that uncle cannot have been the brother of the testator of 1749, Jonathan, for his brother John was old enough to have purchased land before 1749, whereas Zipporah Pierce's husband was only fifteen in that year.

We thus arrive at two men, approximately of the fourth generation, each named John, and each with a son John. The two older men were both married to women named Hannah, one Hannah Jessup, the other Hannah Sutton. The compilers were not equal to the thought that perhaps Hannah Jessup had married first, a Sutton, and then, in a second marriage, married John Reynolds. It is fortunate that they were not, for, however enticing this solution is, it is wrong, because the two John Reynoldses in the fifth generation cannot, as shown above, have been identical. To the problem presented them by Sutton Reynolds' manuscript, these compilers reacted in a characteristic fashion. From their list of children of the testator of 1764 they eliminated Jonathan and Deborah but forgot to eliminate reference to them in the text. They then relegated to their appendix of unplaced Reynoldses (page 425) the will of Jonathan Reynolds who died 1749-1762, and, finally, they printed as sketch 143a what they knew of the John Reynolds whose wife was Ann Finch and as sketch 143b what they knew of the John Reynolds whose wife was Zipporah Pierce. That is, they force their reader to make his choice. The present writer is glad to do so, because it happens that he descends from John and Ann (Finch) Reynolds and, except for this genealogy, he would know nothing of them.

There was, therefore, a sixth man named John Reynolds, in addition to the five listed above as identified in the genealogy. He seems almost certainly to have been a relative of the others, for he resided in later life at North Castle where Jonathan Reynolds died. He named sons John and Robert, and so did his contemporary, the husband of Hannah Jessup. That the son of Sergeant Jonathan and Nevill (Ride) Reynolds was the husband of Hannah Jessup we have, we think, demonstrated above. We think it must have been he who was father to Jonathan Reynolds of North Castle, for he then named a son for his father. His contemporary, the testator of 1764, named no son Jonathan. So far as we are able to deduce from the genealogy, the father of this John Reynolds who appears at Hempstead in 1725 and afterwards was of North Castle, is not identifiable with any certainty. He hazard a guess, however, that he was an undiscovered son of Captain James³ Reynolds (no. 33), who was born in 1674 and died at Amenia, Dutchess County, 14 Feb. 1767, son of John² Reynolds by his wife Judith Palmer. The compilers found no will for him and it is entirely possible that they failed to find some of his children, as they list only seven between 1698 and 1711.

Finally, we should note that the compilers found the baptismal record of Eli, Sarah, Abigail, and Bethia, all children of an unidentified John Reynolds, baptized together at Greenwich on 7 Dec. 1728 (pp. 57 and 407). The only John Reynolds of the six identified in this article who could have been father of these four was No. 42, the son of Sergeant Jonathan and Nevill (Ride) Reynolds. The following is a tentative list of the children of this John Reynolds by his wife Hannah Jessup:

1. Jonathan, d. 1749-62 at North Castle, unm.
11. John, m. Ann Finch.

- iii. Robert.
- iv. Deborah.
- v. Eli.
- vi. Sarah.
- vii. Abigail.
- viii. Bethiah.

Editor's Note: To the foregoing fine piece of genealogical analysis, the Editor appends this note for the benefit of descendants of John and Hannah (Sutton) Reynolds. Robert Sutton is listed in the 1698 Census of Hempstead with Hannah (doubtless his wife), Robert, Elizabeth, Joseph and James. His will, dated 26 Nov. 1724, proved 23 Jan. 1724/5, named wife Hannah, sons Robert, Daniel, Joseph, and John, and mentioned but did not name daughters. Considering locality, date, and the names which Hannah (Sutton) Reynolds gave to some of her children, such as Robert, Joseph and James, she was probably a daughter of Robert Sutton, born subsequent to the 1698 Census.

NOTES, ERRATA AND ADDENDA

I. BAINBRIDGE-PLUMLY-GALE

Referring to the two articles which have appeared herein, "The Plumly Family of Somersetshire, England, and Bucks County, Pennsylvania," vol. 28, pp. 78-80, and "John Gale of Bristol, Bucks County, Pennsylvania, and his Family," vol. 28, pp. 81-83, we have the following information to add:

Mary Bainbridge [who m. (1) John Plumly and (2) John Gale] was born in Maidenhead Township (now Lawrenceville), N.J., on 13 of 12th month [Feb.] 1687/8. She was a daughter of John Bainbridge and Sarah (Clows) Bainbridge. Her father, John Bainbridge, was born 2 Nov. 1658, according to the statement in his will, in which he directed that a tomb be erected over his grave "and on it be put the day and year of my death and my age, which was seventy-four years the second day of November last." The will was dated in Maidenhead Township 12 Feb. 1732/3, the inventory was taken 24 Feb. 1732/3, and the will was proved 1 Mar. 1732/3. Sarah (Clows) Bainbridge, who was married to John Bainbridge on 15 of 6th month [Aug.] 1685, died in Maidenhead Township 25 Mar. 1732 in her 67th year. [Mss. Collection, Genealogical Society of Pennsylvania; N.J. Archives, 1st Series, vol. 30, Abstracts of Wills, 2:30-1.

Mary Bainbridge and her first husband, John Plumly, were married at Chesterfield Meeting House, N.J., 3 of 2nd month 1707, the same day John and Sarah (Clows) Bainbridge gave their consent [Records of Chesterfield Monthly Meeting, Genealogical Society of Pennsylvania].

II. CHURCH-PRICE

Referring to the excellent article by Professor George E. McCracken, F.A.S.G., "The Church and Grant Families of Philadelphia and Vicinity," Part A, Church, herein, vol. 30, pp. 217-231, a statement made on page 217 about the longevity of Edward¹ Church will have to be revised.

In the Genealogical Magazine of New Jersey, vol. 17, p. 46, appears the Marriage License, dated 9 Mar. 1736 [1736/7] of William Price of Chesterfield, Burlington County, blacksmith, and Rebecca Church, spinster, daughter of ——— Church, widow.

Therefore Edward¹ Church of Philadelphia was dead by 9 Mar. 1736/7, and the Edward Church of Cape May County, N.J., who appears in records down to 1769 was a different man, probably his son.

Professor McCracken concurs in this revision.

III. WHITE

The writer is indebted to Mr. Waldo C. Sprague of Wollaston for calling attention to an error in "Ancestry of the White Family of Boston, Mass.," ante, vol. 29, p. 154, regarding Benjamin² White:

Although the Braintree Records by Bates as printed (p. 743) read, "Benjamin White and Lydia Sacan were married ye 17 Jan. 1715-16 by Rev. Samuel Niel," this is evidently an error. The Church Record on same date reads that Lydia Seacum married Benjamin Niles.

With this information in mind, there is a possibility that there was no Benjamin² White of this family.

IV. DUNHAM-COBB-RICKARD

My attention has been called to the following corrections of the Dunham article, ante, vol. 30, pp. 143-155.

(Page 145) It was Jonathan Dunham's wife, Mary Cobb, who was born at Scituate 24 Mar. 1637 [MD 3:73], and not her stepmother, Sarah Hinckley; the latter was baptized at Tenterden, Kent, England, 22 Nov. 1629 [Noyes-Gilman Gen., p. 312].

(Page 145) The date of the third marriage of Giles Rickard, Sr., to Hannah (Pontus) Churchill should read 25 (not 29) June 1669.

CHILDREN OF JOSEPH KNEELAND, HEBRON, CONN.

The Kneeland Genealogy (1897) gives a poor account of the family of Joseph and Ruth (Pratt) Kneeland, and states regarding their daughter Molly, born at Hebron, Conn., 28 Dec. 1774, that she married [no husband named] and went to Livingston Co., N.Y. Joseph's estate in 1799 [Andover District, #1397, testate] is less enlightening than that of his son Benjamin [ibid., #1393], which was filed in Connecticut although he was called late of Franklin, N.Y. Joseph Kneeland and Joel Owen were appointed administrators of Benjamin's estate, and a distribution made 15 Jan. 1801 shows the following heirs: brother Joseph Kneeland; sister Ruth Loveland; brother Daniel Kneeland; sisters Eunice and Sarah Kneeland; sister Molley Owen; and sister Demas Kneeland. Apparently Molly Kneeland, born 1774, married Joel Owen Jr., born in Hebron 1771, son of Dr. Joel and Ann (Buell) Owen, and had recorded there, Sophia 1795 and Zarena 1797. [Hebron Deeds, 9:260, 259 (2), 242 (2), 243, 86; 10:242, 221, 79, 279.] Joel Owen was still living in Hebron in 1801, but some of the deeds show Owen heirs living, 1796-1801, in New Canaan and Seneca, N.Y.

LYON, FAIRFIELD, CONN.

Richard and Henry Lyon of Fairfield, Conn., were probably brothers. Henry Lyon was admitted to Milford Church, 25 Feb. 1648/9, dismissed to Fairfield, granted a homelot there, 1652, married a daughter of William Bateman of Fairfield, and later moved to Newark, N.J. Richard Lyon is said to have been at Fairfield in 1649, died there in 1678, leaving a wife Margaret and nine children. Accounts of both men are in Donald Lines Jacobus, History and Genealogy of the Families of Old Fairfield, 1:393-8, and a good account of Richard Lyon is in Mary Lovering Holman, Ancestry of Colonel John Harrington Stevens and his Wife Frances Helen Miller, 1948, 502-3.

Mrs. Holman refers to a family tradition that Richard Lyon was a Scotsman who came from Perthshire and had been a soldier in Cromwell's army in 1648, but she wisely remarks that "if he were Scotch, he would be more apt to fight against Cromwell than with him, and if he fought with him, he is unlikely to have left [Britain] when the fruits of victory were about to be divided. Cromwell established the Protectorate in 1649."

I fear the "tradition" that Richard and Henry Lyon were from Perthshire may have sprung from a laudable, but baseless, desire on the part of romantic descendants to trace their ancestry back to Glamis Castle and the Earls of Strathmore, and thus claim relationship to H.M. Queen Elizabeth the Queen Mother.

The only clue I have been able to find which may shed light on the origin of the Lyon family of Fairfield is in a bequest in Richard Lyon's will, dated 12 Apr. 1678. He left £7 "to my Cosen Mary Fitch," without, however, specifying which of several contemporary Mary Fitches in Connecticut was to be the legatee. Mr. Jacobus points out that the legacy should refer to a Mary Fitch who lived near Fairfield and whose relationship to Lyon would be known, so it is more probably Mary³ Fitch, born about 1668, daughter of Thomas² and Ruth (Clark) Fitch, of Norwalk, rather than Mary (Stone) Fitch, wife of Captain Joseph¹ Fitch of Windsor, or the latter's daughter Mary² Fitch, who lived quite far from Fairfield and would naturally have been referred to as "of Windsor" if either of them had been the intended legatee.

Without going too deeply into this complex question, it may be pointed out that all the Fitch family came to New England from co. Essex, England, and that Essex was also the lair of numerous Lyons. The Boyd Marriage Index in the library of the Society of Genealogists in London contains records of the marriages of eighteen male Lyons and fourteen female Lyons (or Lyonesses) in Essex in the period 1540-1650, in the following parishes: Ardleigh (1), Ashen (2), Great Baddow (1), North Benfleet (1), Chelmsford (1), Little Chishall (1), Clavering (1), Dengie (1), Doddington (2), Fobbing (1), Halstead (1), Little Horkesley (1), Hornchurch (1), Magdalen Laver (1), Maldon All Saints (1), Messing (1), Newport (1), Saffron Walden (6), Wakes Colne (2), Waltham Holy Cross, now called Waltham Abbey (1), Little Waltham (1), and North Weald (2).

—John Insley Coddington

Editor's Note: Saffron Walden, which had so many Lyon marriages, is in the extreme western part of Essex not far from the adjacent county of Hertford. This Ruth Fitch's maternal grandfather, George Clark of Milford (and Henry Lyon was early of Milford) mentioned in his will land in co. Hertford. If we have the right Ruth Fitch, the Essex-Hertford area seems promising.

A FERRIS FAMILY RECORD

Communicated by Donald Lines Jacobus

David Kimberly (1785-1861) of New York married in 1811 Elizabeth Ferris (1789-1877), younger half-sister (maternally) of Mary Ferris (1773-1805), the wife of his uncle Gideon Kimberly (1762-1819). In 1950 while preparing a genealogy of the Kimberly family, a great-grandson of Elizabeth (Ferris) Kimberly enabled me to inspect and utilize family papers which descended to him from David Kimberly. Among these was a paper devoted to the Ferris family, based apparently on family records and knowledge, written in March 1877, if not by Elizabeth (Ferris) Kimberly, then presumably by one of her children. The information given should be of great value to descendants of this family, and the following is a summary of it:

Samuel Ferris, born 1706 [hence probably the Samuel son of James Ferris Sr. recorded in Greenwich, Conn., as born 21 Sept. 1706], married Ann Lockwood, daughter of Gershom and Ann (Millington) Lockwood, and sister of Betty Lockwood who married a Mead of Horseneck and of Gershom Lockwood Jr. who died early leaving a son Millington and a daughter who married a Hendrie. Ann (Millington) Lockwood was remembered by her grandson Stephen Ferris [born 1740, see below] as a round-faced, short, stout woman. Children of Samuel and Ann (Lockwood) Ferris:

- i. Japhat, b. 2 May 1731. He had children: Hannah (m. Aaron Peck), Sarah, and Henry.
- ii. Samuel, b. 18 Feb. 1733. He had children: David, Samuel, Jonathan, Frederick, Polly, and Susan (m. Jeremiah Reynolds).
- iii. Joseph, b. 29 Mar. 1735. He had children: Ruth, Clara, Solomon.
- iv. Jeduthen, b. 22 Feb. 1737. He had children: Jeduthen, Eathen, Eliphat, Joseph, Andrew, John, Debby, Ann, Mary.
- v. Ann, b. Jan. 1739; m. Daniel Whelpley. Children: Ebenezer, Samuel, Daniel, Henry, Polly, Grace.
- vi. Stephen, b. 27 Dec. 1740. It was he who remembered seeing his grandmother. Children: Samuel, Stephen, Hannah, Polly. His wife was Sarah Hanford.
- vii. Mary, b. 28 Feb. 1743; m. Capt. George Peck, of the Revolutionary Army. Children: Frederick, Augustus, Polly, Charlotte.
- viii. Nathaniel, b. 27 Mar. 1746; see below.
- ix. Hannah, m. Capt. Henry Waring, of the Revolutionary Army. Children: Micajah, Hannah, Henry, Stephen, Nathaniel, James, Samuel, Betty, Polly.

Nathaniel Ferris, son of Samuel above, born 27 Mar. 1746, married Mary Johnson, as her third husband. She married first, Joshua Ferris, by whom she had children:

- i. Mary, b. 28 Mar. 1773; d. 30 Sept. 1805; m. Gideon Kimberly.
- ii. Joshua.

She married second, Thomas Peck, by whom she had:

- iii. Susan.
- iv. Thomas.

Children of Mary Johnson by her third husband, Nathaniel Ferris:

- v. Ann, b. 7 July 1785.
- vi. John, b. 27 Mar. 1787.
- vii. Elizabeth, b. 24 Mar. 1789; d. in 1877; m. in 1811, David Kimberly.
- viii. George, b. 4 Mar. 1791.
- ix. Esther, b. 12 Oct. 1792.
- x. Gideon, b. 13 Jan. 1795.

The names are spelled as they appear on the original paper, though three or four are obviously incorrect. It is believed that the information given is authentic, and that it will add to knowledge of this branch of the Ferris family, but details should be checked when possible with contemporary public records.

FROM A GENEALOGIST'S NOTEBOOK

VIII. JOHN PHELPS, ESQ., OF WESTFIELD, MASS.

By Donald Lines Jacobus, F.A.S.G., of New Haven, Conn.

Three different parentages have been stated for John Phelps, Esq., of Westfield, Mass., who was a graduate of Yale College in 1759, and two of the conflicting statements occur in the very unreliable Phelps Family of America (1899) by O. S. Phelps and A. T. Servin, referred to hereafter in this note as the Phelps Genealogy. The three statements of parentage are:

I. Page 130 of the Phelps Genealogy states that John⁵ Phelps, son of Nathaniel⁴ and a descendant of William¹ Phelps, was baptized at Northampton, Mass., 27 Oct. 1734, and married Mary Ashley; but the name of the wife is an evident misstatement because on page 184, where this John is carried forward, it states that he married first, Jerusha Lyman, who died 1 Oct. 1769, and second, 6 Dec. 1770, Mercy Moseley. Children are given by both wives, those by Jerusha being:

1. John, b. 7 Aug. 1764; d. 28 Mar. 1766.
2. John, b. 15 June 1767; m. Betsey Boies.
3. William H., b. 31 July 1769.

II. But the same "authority," pages 1299 and 1329, states that John⁵ Phelps, son of George⁴ (John³, Isaac², George¹), born at Westfield 9 Mar. 1746, married first, "Jerusha (probably Phelps)," who died at Westfield 1 Oct. 1769, and second, 6 Dec. 1770, Mary Mosely; and John died at Westfield 10 May 1802. No children are here given by the second wife, but those by Jerusha are stated as:

1. John, b. 7 Aug. 1764; d. 1776 [sic].
2. John, b. 15 Jan. 1767.
3. William Henry, b. 31 July 1769.

It will be seen that both Johns are given the same wives, though in one case Jerusha is called Lyman and in the other "probably Phelps," and Mercy Moseley is incorrectly called Mary in the second account. Aside from discrepancies in date, the same three children by the first wife are attributed to both Johns.

III. In the previous generation at Westfield, John⁴ Phelps, son of John³ (Isaac², George¹) was born 4 Mar. 1715/16. The Phelps Genealogy gives no account of him at all except "Probably an early settler of Great Barrington"—an incorrect statement. But Stiles, History of Windsor [2:595] supposes this John, born 1715/16, to be the father of John, Esq., of Westfield (Yale 1759, died 1802); and Dexter in Yale Biographies [2:608] enters this parentage as a certainty.

I investigated this matter for Mrs. Perry Settle McCallen of Knoxville, Tenn., who graciously permits publication, and was greatly aided by research of Miss Ethel Lord Scofield of Longmeadow, Mass.

The last claim of parentage may be dismissed as wrong. The John born 1715/16 was, with his brother George, administrator on the estate of his father Lieut. John Phelps in 1742. He gave two deeds dated 26 May 1743 and made two purchases 11 June 1743 [Springfield Deeds, K:680, 683, 690, 691]. He died at Westfield 21 Aug. 1743, having married Mary Bedortha. The marriage is recorded at Westfield, but the date frayed from the margin of the page. However, the marriage intention was entered at Springfield 19 May 1743 [Warren MS], and Mary Bedortha is given as born 29 Jan. 1720/1, the daughter of John and Ruth (Lee) Bedortha. It will be seen that our Yale graduate of 1759 could hardly have been a child of the 1743 marriage of John⁴ Phelps.

As for the second claim, John⁵, born 1746 would have been but thirteen at graduation from college in 1759 and but eighteen when his first child was born. We think this claim deserves scant consideration. Perhaps it should be noted that the 1790 Census lists at Westfield in addition to "John Esq." a John Phelps "2d" who is improbably the son of John Esq. since he had in his family a boy and five females. He may well be John⁵ (George⁴), born 1746, who was definitely younger than John Esq. Also, a John Phelps died at Westfield 28 Dec. 1827 aged 84. If an overstatement of age, this may be John⁵, born 1746.

The first claim is correct. The Yale graduate was the John Phelps born at Northampton and baptized there 27 Oct. 1734. In the Old Cemetery in Westfield, now known as Mechanic Street Cemetery, is a stone "To the memory of John Phelps Esq. who died May 10th 1802 in the 68th year of his age." The age corresponds. With him are buried his wives: Jerusha who died 1 Oct. 1769 in the 29th year of her age; and Mercy who died 3 Nov. 1820 in the 79th year of her age. Furthermore, on 10 Oct. 1777, Martin Phelps of Northampton, husbandman, and John Phelps of Westfield, Esq., joined in conveying "that part of Phelps original lot in the long division, so called, in Northampton, which descended to us from our father" [Springfield Deeds, 26:52]. Martin was a son of Nathaniel. Hence it cannot be doubted that John, Esq., of Westfield was also a son of Nathaniel who had the son John born at a date which matches the gravestone statement of age.

Some illuminating sidelights may be thrown on the family connections. John Phelps and his first wife, Jerusha Lyman, were double second cousins. He was son of Nathaniel and Catherine (King)(Heacock) Phelps and grandson of John and Mehitabel (Pomeroy) King. Jerusha was daughter of Gad and Thankful (Pomeroy) Lyman and granddaughter of Ebenezer and Sarah (King) Pomeroy. The grandparents of John were brother and sister of the grandparents of Jerusha. The mother of John Phelps, née Catherine King, married for a third husband Lieut. Gideon Lyman, own uncle of Jerusha. This is proved by Springfield Deeds [6:393] and apparently has not been known heretofore. Gideon Lyman was widower of Esther Strong.

Jerusha Lyman's uncle John Lyman married Abigail Moseley. Her uncle Daniel Pomeroy married Rachel Moseley. Her cousin Benjamin Lyman married Mary Moseley. These Moseley women were all sisters of David Moseley whose daughter Mercy became John Phelps's second wife. John's two wives were not related, at any rate not closely, but it is easy to understand how John Phelps, during the lifetime of his first wife, would become acquainted with the Moseleys who were her kith if not kin.

IX. AN ATROCIOUS LOCKWOOD BLUNDER

By Donald Lines Jacobus, F.A.S.G., of New Haven, Conn.

Descendants of Robert Lockwood, published in 1889 by F. A. Holden and E. D. Lockwood is so poorly put together that twice in working on Lockwood lines for descendants the present writer has found their male lines of descent given erroneously. Many descendants of Edmund Lockwood are included among those of Robert. One blunder is so atrocious that I have decided to call attention to it, both for the sake of the correction, and as a warning against accepting the statements of this book as authentic without thorough investigation and verification.

On page 220 is found the alleged family of Joseph⁵ Lockwood (Joseph⁴, Joseph³, Ephraim³, Robert¹). Of him it is stated that he was born at Norwalk, Conn., removed to Rochester, N.Y., and married Cordelia Filley. No dates are given. The children are listed as:

Laura, b. June 1791; m. Walter Hawley.
 Manley, b. Jan. 1793.
 Oliver, b. Sept. 1795; m. Lydia Maynard.
 Bulah, b. Nov. 1798.
 Jason, b. 1800.
 Harlow, b. June 1802.
 Eliza, b. 1 May 1805.

The dates seem rather late for children of Joseph⁵, for his father, Joseph⁴, was born in 1710, so if Joseph⁵ was born about 1750 when his father was 40, he himself would be over 40 when the first of his children was born. The reference given for the children is "Hy. Old Windsor p. 612" by which is meant the first edition (1859) of the History of Ancient Windsor, by Henry R. Stiles. The second edition (1892), vol. 2, p. 253, lists children of Jonah and Polly (Manly) Filley as follows:

1. Jonah, b. Feb. 1786; m. Rebecca Andrew.
2. Polly, b. May 1788; m. John Manning. Issue:
 1. Emeline (Manning), m. Ralph Mygatt; sett. Lansingburgh, N.Y.
 2. Cordelia (Manning), m. Jos. Lockwood; res. Rochester, N.Y.
3. Laura, b. June 1791; m. Walter Hawley.
4. Manly, b. Jan. 1793; rem. to Colebrook, Conn., where he m. a Rogers. Issue:
 1. Leander Judson, b. 1819; m. Julia Moore of Becket, Mass.
5. Olive, b. Sept. 1795.
6. Beulah, b. Nov. 1798; prob. the B. who m. Alpheus Ingham,

- 3 Apr. 1817.-Wby. Ch. Rec.
7. Jason, b. 1800.
8. Harlow, b. June 1802; d. 10 Apr. 1804.
9. Eliza, b. May 1805.

Compare the two accounts. They constitute a "deadly parallel." A Cordelia Manning, whose mother was Polly Filley, married one Joseph Lockwood and lived in Rochester, N.Y. The compilers of the Lockwood book have changed her into Cordelia Filley, and given her for Lockwood children her mother's seven younger brothers and sisters who actually were Filleys, not Lockwoods. Not satisfied with this, they have turned Olive Filley into Oliver Lockwood who married Lydia Maynard.

This Oliver Lockwood was an actual person. His marriage to Lydia Maynard on 23 Aug. 1815 in Franklin Co., Ohio, is found in the "Old Northwest" Genealogical Quarterly, vol. 2, p. 22. He was listed in the 1850 Census at Illinois Grove, Marshall Co., Iowa, aged 71, with wife Lydia, 66, and others who are known by descendants to have been his children. His birthplace is stated as New York State. It thus appears that he was not born in 1795 in Danville, Conn. (a non-existent place) as the compilers had it. According to the History of Union County, Ohio (1883), vol. 2, p. 173, Oliver Lockwood who married "Miss Maynard" was one of the children of Israel Lockwood, Sr., and the family is said to have moved from Connecticut to New York, thence to Canada which they left because of the War of 1812, and in 1814 to Ohio. There seems no reason to doubt this, now that the sins of the compilers of the Lockwood book stand revealed.

What then of the actual history of Joseph⁵ Lockwood of Norwalk, who was about two generations too early to be the Joseph of Rochester, N.Y., who married Cordelia Manning, miscalled Cordelia Filley by the compilers? Joseph⁴ Lockwood was born 23 Nov. 1710. His children were not recorded, but are named in his will dated 17 Mar. 1773, proved 2 Sept. 1773. The will of his widow Rebecca, made 29 Sept. 1775, proved 6 Nov. 1775, shows that she was mother of all of Joseph's children. His will names his wife Rebecca; children, David, Joseph, Ebenezer, Stephen, Abraham (the last three called the youngest sons), Rebeckah, Ruth, Anna, Sarah; and heirs of daughter Phebe late deceased. There are distributions and numerous deeds of the heirs. In these, Joseph⁵ was always of Norwalk and never with a distinguishing appellation such as "senior" or "junior" to indicate that there was any other Joseph in Norwalk after Joseph⁴ died except his son.

Joseph⁵ gave deeds in 1786 and 1794. On 29 Oct. 1803, Joseph Lockwood of Norwalk conveyed for love to his son, Joseph Lockwood, Jr., of Norwalk, land with buildings at Pudding Lane. Since Joseph⁴ conveyed in 1765 to his [eldest] son David land in Pudding Lane, the 1803 deed seems clearly to be from Joseph⁵ to his son Joseph⁶. We therefore identify Joseph⁵ as the Joseph who married 31 Oct. 1774 Isabel Hyatt and had children Joseph 2 Oct. 1778, William 23 July 1780, and Fanny, 29 June 1784. His will, made 2 July 1821, divided his property between his son Joseph and his daughter Fanny wife of John Cannon.

In Town House Hill Cemetery at Norwalk are grave-stones to Joseph³ Lockwood (d. 23 Nov. 1760 ae. 80); Joseph⁴ Lockwood (d. 20 July 1773 ae. 62) and his wife Rebecca (d. 25 Sept. 1775 ae. 58); and Joseph⁵ Lockwood (d. 27 Sept. 1821 ae. 71) and his wife Isabel (d. 20 Aug. 1819 ae. 64). THE GERSHOM LOCKWOODS OF GREENWICH, CONN.

By Donald Lines Jacobus, F.A.S.G., of New Haven, Conn.

The chart below shows the double lines of Gershom Lockwoods of Greenwich, Conn., with each Gershom numbered according to age:

The compilers of Descendants of Robert Lockwood (1889) split one of the above Gershoms into two, and to some extent mix the wives and children. Our own study of the problems involved has been insufficient to enable us to write a definitive account, and in the place of it we are giving brief abstracts of some of the vital, probate and land records which must be used in any consideration of the problems involved.

It will be understood that the terms "Senior," "Junior," "3rd" and "4th" were used to distinguish between living men of the same name according to age, and if one of them died, the others moved up a notch. Thus, the Gershom "4th" of a deed in 1748 is identical with Gershom "3rd" of a 1758 deed after his father's death.

THE BROTHERS THOMAS AND JOHN CHADWICK OF WATERTOWN

By Janice Boyd, of West Hartford, Connecticut, and George E. McCracken, of Des Moines, Iowa

(Concluded from Vol. 31, p. 74)

11. Ebenezer² Chadwick, third son and sixth child of John¹ Chadwick by wife Sarah, was born in Watertown on 3 May 1683. He was of Boston, husbandman, late of Watertown, when on 8 Sept. 1706 he was grantee of a deed in which his brother Charles was grantor [Deeds, 14:109]. He was of Watertown, weaver, with wife Abigail, when he conveyed to Benoni Gearfield, 11 Feb. 1707/8 [ibid., 15:455, rec. same day]; was of Watertown, yeoman, on 4 Jan. 1709/10 when his brother Charles conveyed to him and to his brother John [ibid., 15:593]. Brother Charles also conveyed to him on 9 July 1711 [ibid., 15:579]. He was of Sudbury, husbandman, when he conveyed to Jonathan Stone, of Watertown, husbandman, 26 Mar. 1713 [ibid., 18:45, rec. 9 May 1716]. He and wife Abigail conveyed to Daniel Golusia, 1 Apr. 1712 [ibid., 18:558, rec. 14 Nov. 1717].

He married at Watertown, 20 Mar. 1707, Abigail Grant, born 2 Jan. 1683/4, daughter of Caleb and Mary. He died 16 Apr. 1725 in his 42nd year and his widow married Ebenezer Boynton on 7 June 1728. Middlesex probate file 4100 has papers relating to the estate of Ebenezer Chadwick, late of Weston, among them a real estate appraisal signed by James Jones, John Mirick, Benjamin Harrington et al. to which at Cambridge, 7 Apr. 1730, was added a list of children as below. Both Ebenezer Boynton and wife signed also, she by mark.

Children:

- i. Mercy, b. 19 Jan. 1707/8, probably at Watertown; bapt. at Cambridge, 25 Jan. 1707/8; appears in the list in third place after her two brothers, i.e. eldest daughter and actually eldest child; m. at Weston, 15 Feb. 1727/8, John Jackson. In the list she was marked with an x but was not dead, as she was giving birth to children as late as 1746 at Weston. The list states that John and Mary (sic) Jackson signed, but it must have been Mercy who was John's wife.
- ii. Ebenezer, b. 1 Apr. 1709, was minor in 18th year, son of late Ebenezer Chadwick, when guardianship was granted, 31 Mar. 1727, to Abigail Chadwick (file 4103).
- iii. Lydia, b. 10 Feb. 1710/11, in 20th year on 7 Apr. 1730 (file 4101); m. 13 Nov. 1732, Joshua Green.
- iv. Abigail, b. ca. 1714, in 17th year on 7 Apr. 1730 (ibid.). Bond wrongly attributes to her as husband Ebenezer Boynton, her stepfather.
- v. Mary, b. ca. 1716, in 15th year on 7 Apr. 1730 (ibid.);

- m. W. Whitney.
 vi. John, b. 28 Apr. 1717 (Tyringham V.R.), in 13th year on 30 Mar. 1730 (file 4101).
 vii. Beulah, b. 14 Oct. 1719, Weston, in 11th year on 7 Apr. 1730 (file 4101-2); m. Jonathan Stear 27 Feb. 1736/7.
 viii. Elizabeth, b. 14 July 1723, Weston, in 7th year on 7 Apr. 1730 (ibid.).

12. Benjamin² Chadwick, sixth son and eighth child of John¹ Chadwick by wife Sarah, was born at Watertown on 6 Mar. 1688/9. He was made residuary legatee of his father's will in 1710. He married at Cambridge, 10 May 1711, Hannah Welch, the marriage record stating that he was of Watertown. No deeds for him have been found in Middlesex County. We think it probable that after the birth of all his children at Watertown, he removed to Attleborough, and that his wife Hannah was the woman who died there on 21 Oct. 1732 in her 44th year, but is recorded as wife of John Chadwick. If this assumption of an error by the Attleborough clerk is wrong, then we do not know how to interpret this death record.

Children, all recorded at Watertown:

- i. Nathaniel, b. 16 June 1711.
- ii. Grace, b. 17 Jan. 1713/14.
- iii. Hannah, b. 25 Jan. 1715/16.
- iv. Martha, b. 21 Jan. 1717/18.
- v. William, b. 18 Jan. 1719/20.
- vi. Hezekiah, b. 28 Apr. 1722.
- vii. Noah, b. 27 Feb. 1724/5.
- viii. Aaron, b. 1 Dec. 1727.

13. James³ Chadwick, son of Richard² Chadwick (Thomas¹) by wife Mary Tillotson, has not been found in any birth record. He married at Lyme, 22 June 1743, Martha Chadwick, daughter of Nathaniel² Chadwick (Thomas¹) by wife Sarah, his first cousin. James died before 13 Nov. 1759, the date of Nathaniel Chadwick's will which bequeaths to "my daughter Martha, widow of James Chadwick." Martha married second, Benjamin Rowland. Lyme Deeds [23:47] contain a lease by Martha, widow of Benjamin Rowland, to her son Silas Chadwick.

14. Samuel³ Chadwick, son of Richard² Chadwick (Thomas¹) by wife Mary Tillotson, married at Lyme, 12

May 1744, Mary Adsit, born 28 Aug. 1723, daughter of John Adsit by wife Mary. Samuel must have died between August and October 1789, as in Lyme Deeds [15:466] he conveys land "to my son Stephen," 24 Aug. 1789, and on 20 Oct. 1789 Mary Chadwick, widow of Samuel, Elizabeth Champion, widow, Phebe Chadwick, Martin Scovell and Eunice Scovell his wife, deed land to Stephen Chadwick, all of Lyme [ibid., 15:467].

15. George³ Chadwick, son of Richard² Chadwick (Thomas¹) by wife Mary Tillotson, appears many times in Lyme Deeds, but the dates of his birth, marriage, and death are unknown. In none of the deeds is his wife named and his will, dated 13 Jan. 1803, probated 14 Jan. 1805, is also silent concerning her. The will styles him Captain and bequeaths the whole of his estate to his two sons Richard and George who are to pay legacies to his daughters Temperance, wife of George Miller, Polly, wife of Joseph Miller, Lurana, wife of Joseph Wait, and Clary, wife of Asa Chadwick. He signed by mark; inventory: $165.74.

Hannah died 28 Nov. 1840 aet. 70, "wife of Richard Chadwick, formerly wife of Enoch Lay," and is buried next her first husband. From census records we infer that he had five daughters and three sons, all born before 1810, but we are unable to state their names. This Richard Chadwick was 2nd corporal, Capt. Mather's Co., Col. Beebe's Regt. [Connecticut Men in the Revolution, p. 621; pensioner 1832, New London Co., p. 655].

28. Ezra⁴ Chadwick, son of Daniel³ Chadwick (Daniel², Thomas¹) by wife Hannah Anderson, was born at Lyme on 2 June 1763; married there on 11 May 1784 Sarah Lay, born 2 Mar. 1766 at Lyme, daughter of William and Phebe (Sill) Lay. Ezra is not recorded in the Lyme censuses and according to the Champion Genealogy he moved to Chatham, Columbia Co., N.Y. The same source [p. 54] states that Ezra Lay Chadwick, born 17 Feb. 1805, married 12 June 1826 Anna Champion, was a son of this family, but this cannot be so if The Descendants of Thomas Lord [p. 189] is correct in giving the marriage of Thomas Marvin to Mrs. Sarah Lay Chadwick as dated 25 May 1794. We are inclined to believe that Ezra Lay Chadwick belonged to one of the New York State families but not to this one.

Editor's Note: Since controversy is the spice of genealogy, may the editor here defend the opposite view, in defence of his old friend, - the late Francis Bacon Trowbridge, author of the Champion Genealogy? This book was published in 1891 when the children of Ezra Lay Chadwick were living in their 50's and 60's and unquestionably they supplied the very full records which are given of this family group. Presumably they knew themselves to be grandchildren of Ezra and Sarah (Lay) Chadwick. On the other hand the Lyme Church records show that Thomas Marvin married 23 May 1784 Sarah Lay—a different Sarah Lay of course. His alleged second marriage to Sarah (Lay) Chadwick on 25 May 1794 could possibly be a jumbled secondary record of the first marriage, and the date is only seven months after Sarah (Lay) Chadwick gave birth to the fourth Chadwick child named below. It would be desirable to confirm that Thomas Marvin did have such a second marriage.—D.L.J.

Children:

- i. Lurana, b. 30 Jan. 1785; m. Abijah Beckwith.
- ii. Hepzibah, b. 18 Mar. 1787.
- iii. Phebe, b. 17 Oct. 1790.

29. Joseph⁴ Chadwick, son of Reuben³ Chadwick (Daniel², Thomas¹) by wife Martha Miller, was born at Lyme on 26 Jan. 1772, died in 1831. He married 13 June 1799

Phebe Peck, born 28 Aug. 1778 at Lyme, daughter of Jasper and Phebe (Dorr) Peck. She was living as late as November 1838 when she deeded land. His will, dated 14 Feb. 1831, probated 12 Dec. 1831, bequeaths to wife Phebe and two children. Census records indicate that Joseph and Phebe had two other sons, born about 1805 and 1808, and another daughter, born about 1811. Lyme Deeds [36:33] show that Phebe Chadwick of Bloomfield, Ontario Co., N.Y., widow of Joseph of Lyme, deeded land to Julia Ann Langworthy, 10 Nov. 1838. It seems possible that her son Joseph went to Ontario County and that she went with him.

Children:

His gravestone says he was in Capt. Taintor's Co. in the War of 1812.

STEBBING NOTE

Professor George E. McCracken of Des Moines, Iowa, a descendant of Edward Stebbing, reports that he received a letter dated 4 Nov. 1950 from Mr. Orville Cox Day of American Forks, Utah, also a descendant of Edward Stebbing, in which Mr. Day stated that "About 1930 or 1932 it was printed in the Boston Evening Transcript that the parents of Deacon Edward Stebbins or Stebbing were Mark Stebbing and Mary. No reference or proof was given and no more ancestors back in England."

The contributor of the article on pages 193-201, likewise a descendant of Edward Stebbing, has found nothing to substantiate the item in the Transcript. There was a Mark Stubbing of Harpenden, co. Hertford, a clerk, who was engaged in litigation in Chancery between 1596 and 1621, and another Mark Stubbing, tailor, of London, whose will was proved in 1617 [P.C.C., 81 Weldon]. There is no reason to connect either of these men with our Deacon Edward Stebbing.

GENEALOGICAL PUBLICATIONS

THE AMERICAN GENEALOGIST

Most back issues can be supplied at $2.00 each; four back issues, $7.00. Seven issues can no longer be supplied. These are Whole Numbers 36, 48, 94, 96, 106, 110 and 111. A few others are in low supply and may shortly be withdrawn from sale singly.

The publisher can offer no more complete sets. Just one set lacking five issues is priced at $124.50. After that is sold, only sets lacking seven issues will be available, at $121.50. Such sets are Volumes 9 to 30 inclusive (1932/3 through 1954).

A professional genealogist, just retiring, and a subscriber from the start, offers a complete set for $150.00. The undersigned is authorized to accept the first offer for it.

NEW HAVEN GENEALOGICAL MAGAZINE

At least twelve of the thirty-two issues are out of print; these include Whole Numbers 1, 13 to 20 inclusive, 24, 26 and 32. The few copies of other issues remaining are $2.50 each.

THE BULKLEY GENEALOGY

Published in 1933; full name index; 1066 pages. Perfect copies are now scarce and are priced at $15.00. Many copies had covers damaged but the contents not affected; these are offered at $10.00 and $12.00, depending on the extent of damage. The covers are not falling off or even loose, but the appearance of the volume suffers.

INDEX TO GENEALOGICAL PERIODICALS

Volume I (1932) is out of print.

Volume II (1948), $12.00. Covers most genealogical periodicals (surnames and place indexes) for the period 1932 to 1946 inclusive, and a few titles completely which were not in Volume I.

Volume III (published at end of 1953). Covers most periodicals for the period 1947 to 1952 inclusive, six years. To this is added "My Own Index," a selective index of various multiple-family genealogies, relating mostly to New England, enabling the user to locate "buried" data dealing with the families of some 1,500 "first settlers."
